

CHULA VISTA RV RESORT | OCTOBER 2018 NEWSLETTER

SADLY, THE TIME HAS COME TO SAY GOODBYE.

As most of you know, the Port of San Diego has grand plans for our Harbor. They will be building a new hotel/convention center at Chula Vista Harbor, and they need to use the RV Resort's acreage for much of this development. We have known this was coming for many years, but until recently we were never sure when it would actually happen.

The Port has now informed us we must vacate the premises by March 1st, 2019. As such, we must close the RV Resort by February 1st in order to allow enough time for us to completely vacate the property by March 1st.

This is very painful for us, as our staff has given their hearts and souls to Chula Vista RV Resort for many years. We have become friends with so many of you, and learned to look forward to your next visit

There is still time to enjoy our beautiful Resort, and we will stay resolute until the end with our many happy parties and events. Read on, as October is an exciting month to visit, and the holidays are right around the corner. Make your reservations soon and be sure to visit us now.

Until we see your smiles again, Safe Travels,

Andrea LaValley, GM

THE GOSSIP BOARD

During our Labor Day concert, we received a very generous gift. Jennifer Trembley shared her talent of fire dancing. It's something she loves to share along her journey of cruising around the world. Jennifer and Harry Trembley have been marina guests for about a month. Sailing the coast of Mexico is next on their sailing journey. They're from the San Francisco Bay area where Jen started spinning fire in 2003. In the beginning, she taught herself by watching YouTube videos, but as she became more experienced she decided to take formal lessons from a teacher in San Francisco. Later she came in contact with a performing group and they would perform around the Bay area, fire art festivals, and later at Burning Man (where it all began for her).

When performing, her husband Harry stands by with a fire retardant blanket and keeps watch to make sure her clothing doesn't catch fire. The fire creates its own perimeter so people rarely walk into its path; however sometimes she uses LED Poi's instead of fire. Jen's performances are truly mesmerizing to watch!
